Notices of Construction of Ethanol Production Facilities

Act 140 of 2004, which provides tax credits for the construction of ethanol production facilities in Hawaii, requires:

"Prior to construction of any new qualifying ethanol production facility, the taxpayer shall provide written notice of the taxpayer's intention to begin construction of a qualifying ethanol production facility... This information shall be available for public inspection and dissemination..."

The tax credit is only available to the first 40 million gallons of capacity in the state. The information provided in the table below may help ethanol production facility developers to evaluate the likelihood that they will be able to take the tax credit. However, potential ethanol producers are cautioned that other ethanol production facilities may be in various stages of project start-up. Also, ethanol production facilities are not required to provide the "notice of intent to construct" if they are not intending to take the facility tax credit.
